

Ten Trails is a unique, master planned community that features a wide variety of new homes from esteemed homebuilders.

Careful planning and responsible building practices make this new community stand out, along with its convenient location near jobs and the region's best recreational activities.

Ten Trails' developer, Oakpointe, designed the community using best practices in placemaking and neighborhood integration, incorporating a town center, diverse home styles, amenities, and community activities into an organic whole.

Ten Trails offers residents the perfect balance of modern style and rural simplicity. This is the kind of community people want to live in.
